

Do you want to be in touch with other international students and scholars at Harvard?

The Harvard International Office has created a listserv for international students, scholars and their families to serve as a marketplace, a bulletin board and a forum for general questions and answers.

The listserv's homepage is:

<http://groups.yahoo.com/group/HInternational>

We hope that you will find this listserv useful. The Harvard International Office has facilitated its creation, but it is not a University discussion group.

Please use reasonable caution when giving out personal information over any list.